Message from the Dean

Dear Alumni and Friends,

Thank you. With these two words, I wish to convey to you our heartfelt appreciation of your generosity. As we enter a season of giving thanks, I am humbled and grateful for the generosity of our alumni and friends. Your support provides the critical resources for many of our academic initiatives, innovative programming and vital student services. It is because of benefactors like you that we are able to provide an exceptional legal education to our students.

Reviewing this publication reminds me of one of the many reasons why I wanted to join the Maryland Carey Law community and be your new dean. This is a special place with a dedicated community. Gifts from our alumni and friends last beyond a lifetime. They help us to ensure a stronger law school for generations yet to come. Our faculty, students, and alumni continue to celebrate remarkable achievements that have an immediate impact in our local community, in the state of Maryland, across our nation, and around the world.

Although my time at Maryland Carey Law has been short, just over five months, I see the impact of your financial support every day as I walk the halls. We have a facility that provides space for law students to be inspired and challenged. Our classrooms, law review offices, and technology-enhanced courtroom, offer our students the best tools for the rigors of law school, ensuring they develop the skills needed to excel in the legal profession today. Our students are at the heart of everything we do. Your contributions help us recruit the best and brightest students to Maryland Carey Law, and your support makes it possible for them to benefit from an extraordinary legal education.

Thank you for all that you do; for your financial investments in Maryland Carey Law and for the hours you spend in the community assisting our students. The success of Maryland Carey Law would not be possible without the generous support of our dedicated alumni and friends. Thank you for choosing to make a difference in the lives of our students.

I look forward to meeting each and every one of you as we host receptions and welcome you back to the law school.

Sincerely,

The Carey Challenge Continues and William P. Carey's Legacy Inspires Others to Give

The School of Law had a successful year raising matching funds toward the $15 million Carey Challenge due to the generosity of alumni and friends who believe in our mission and want to play a part in educating our future leaders. Since the announcement of the W.P. Carey Foundation's gift in April 2011, more than $12 million has been raised toward the $15M match. With approximately $3 million still to be raised, Dean Donald B. Tobin is encouraging supporters to carry on William P. Carey's legacy of "doing good while doing well." Philanthropic support continues to be necessary to sustain our focus on students, faculty and programs.

"Meeting the Carey Challenge is essential if we are to achieve our goal of educating the next generation of great lawyers, great leaders and great thinkers," says Dean Tobin.

Major Gifts to the Carey Challenge

In 2011, the W.P. Carey Foundation's magnificent $30 million gift was announced, and the School of Law launched the Carey Challenge. The Carey Challenge was conceived by William P. Carey who made an investment in our law school with the hope of inspiring others to make their own philanthropic commitments to support the law school's pressing priorities. As we seek to secure new gifts to meet the $15 million Challenge, these supporters have generously participated in the Carey Challenge by pledging new, major commitments of $25,000 or more between April 25, 2011 (date Carey Challenge began) and June 30, 2014.

Message from MLSC

Dear Fellow Alumni and Friends,

It is a truly exciting time at the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law and I am honored that you have decided to play such a vital role in our success. Maryland Carey Law's stellar reputation continues to grow nationally. Our highly accomplished faculty and rigorous curriculum allow us to attract exceptionally talented and bright students. Your ongoing dedication to the law school has assisted each student in realizing their goal of earning a law degree and ensures they have the critical tools they need to be successful after graduation. On behalf of Maryland Carey Law, I cannot thank you enough.

We have a new dean, Donald Tobin, who has a vision for Maryland Carey Law that ensures we remain the flagship law school of Maryland. He is dedicated to the long-standing tradition our law school has maintained for educating great lawyers, great thinkers and great leaders.

As leaders in this community, Maryland Law School Club members have always been committed to the continued success of our law school. Without your tireless dedication and support for Maryland Carey Law over the years, we would not have our countless academic initiatives or provide the outstanding services that students enjoy every day. Your impact on today's law students is immediate and powerful.

Maryland Carey Law's success is made possible through the generosity of those who understand that a high-quality legal education is enhanced by annual leadership gifts. Thank you for the leadership support you provide and for your ongoing commitment.

Sincerely,

Maryland Carey Law Remains a Champion of Excellence With the Help of Forward-Thinking Donors

The Legacy Council recognizes generous, forward-thinking donors who have made provisions through their estate plans or other planned giving vehicles to support the School of Law. Through long-range gift planning, graduates and friends leave a lasting legacy at the law school in the form of bequests, gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, and donations of life insurance and retirement assets.

Membership Qualifications

Legacy Council members may have a small or large planned gift commitment, through one or more of the various planned giving vehicles. All Legacy Council members must have a documented planned gift with the law school; that means the donor has prepared the requisite gift intention form and has filed it with the Office of Planned Giving. This documentation does not preclude the donor from revoking their planned gift, if circumstances change, or from remaining anonymous if the donor wishes.

Benefits of Membership

There are many benefits, both tangible and intangible, of being a Legacy Council member:

- The pride of making a gift to support the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law.
- Possible income tax, estate tax, and gift tax benefits.
- Special invitations to lectures, seminars, and other events.
- Recognition of your gift in selected law school publications, if you elect to be listed.

Endowed & Named Funds

Endowments and Named Funds are a way to combine a donor's vision with the needs of the law school. A strong endowment reduces its dependence on tuition revenues. Typically, a portion of income generated by each endowment is spent every year, with any excess earnings reinvested to grow the endowment and compensate for inflation.

The Shumsky-Kronick Fellowship

In its inaugural year, the Shumsky-Kronick Fellowship in Business Law supported current third-year student, Randy Henry. The fellowship, created by alumnus and Board of Visitors member, Edward Shumsky '73 and his wife, Susan Kronick, was designed to facilitate the placement of selected fellows in a law firm or business, where the fellow gains hands-on, practical experience in the workplace. As the most qualified applicant, meeting many requirements, Randy took part in the ten week program as a fellow working at T. Rowe Price in Baltimore, MD. When asked about his experience, Randy said “the fellowship at T. Rowe Price was a fantastic opportunity.” Randy’s work spanned many areas; he drafted contracts, reviewed agreements and fee arrangements, made recommendations for revisions to the corporate Code of Ethics, reviewed SEC filings, and researched mutual funds. “People whose legal brains are flexible and creative add an important dimension to the way companies view opportunities and problems because they are able to frame the core questions in remarkably clear ways. Those who understand the business from various viewpoints—legal and otherwise—are valuable assets and can truly help grow the business” says Kronick, who served as vice chair of Macy’s, Inc., where she was responsible for overseeing 850 Macy’s and Bloomingdale’s department stores and led one of the largest mergers in retail history

Giving Spotlight

Leadership Scholars Legacy Endowment Challenge Unlimited

Since its inception, the Leadership Scholars Program has made it possible for the law school to recruit and support highly talented students. As part of the Leadership Scholars Program, in 2008, the Leadership Scholars Legacy Endowment was established to provide scholarship support for students who demonstrate academic achievement, possess leadership qualities, have prior professional experience, or desire to study public interest law. “We wanted to find a meaningful way to thank the many alumni and friends who give generously each year in support of student scholarships,” said Marcus Wang ’08, who, with his fellow Samuel and Anne Hopkins Scholarship recipients, Roberto Vela ’09 and Alexis Slater ’10, created the endowment. Inspired by the selflessness and generosity shown by the Leadership Scholars in establishing the endowment, Henry Hopkins ’68 matches, dollar for dollar, every gift and pledge made to the Leadership Scholars Legacy Endowment.

Friends

We are grateful to have many friends who are invested in the University of Maryland Carey School of Law's success. They provide the foundation of support upon which we can build a strong program integrating both the theory and practice of law, which prepares our graduates for the realities of a changing legal marketplace. The entire law school community thanks them for supporting the students and mission of Maryland Carey Law.

Sticking Their Necks Out

The Giraffe Award Fund, established by alumnus and Board of Visitors member John Isbister '77, supports non-tenured faculty in efforts that involve “sticking their necks out,” or taking a risk. Such risk-taking, as defined by Mr. Isbister, might include taking action that might not otherwise be taken because of the risk of failure; taking action that might lead to an unknown result; using an untested theory to obtain a result; taking action that is uncommon to address a problem; or being innovative in approach, methodology, and style in reaching a result.

This year, Professors Russell McClain and Lee Kovarsky were awarded for their innovative work. Funding supported Professor McClain’s work in the area of minority recruitment and retention, and Professor Kovarsky’s work in understanding and promoting just administration of capital process in death penalty cases.

Our faculty members’ commitment to innovative specialty programs, outstanding clinical legal education, and public service in addition to a rigorous core curriculum that sometimes leads them to “stick their neck out” means that students have many opportunities to actively participate in and benefit from our strong intellectual community. Professors McClain and Kovarsky are two shining examples of the talented faculty teaching the next generation of lawyer-leaders.

Faculty & Staff

Gifts given by University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law’s front-line ambassadors—its faculty and staff—are evidence that those closest to Maryland Carey Law believe in its mission and are committed to its future. We give special thanks to our faculty and staff, whose support is very much appreciated.

France Merrick Foundation Helps to Address Tech Challenges in Changing Legal Landscape

The France Merrick Foundation has been an important leadership partner at critical milestones in the history of the School of Law. As Dean Tobin leads the institution forward in this changing legal landscape, the Foundation's partnership with the law school to ensure facility and technological upgrades are completed to provide our students, faculty, and clinic clients state-of-the-art facilities has never been more important. Through these upgrades, we will continue to provide excellent education, expanded community service, and access to justice for all. The Access to Justice through Technology Initiative supports facility and technology upgrades to allow our Clinic to extend its reach and to keep pace with changes in the ways we communicate and provide service to clients. Your gift toward these upgrades will be matched, dollar for dollar, and will allow the Clinic to expand its reach and bolster delivery of legal services to underserved populations.

GOLD Club

The Graduates of the Last Decade (GOLD) Club recognizes the generosity of Maryland Carey Law's most recent graduates. Membership in the GOLD Club is tiered:

Maryland Carey Law Partners with UMB Foundation for Scholarships

The University of Maryland Baltimore Foundation, Inc. (UMBF) is partnering with donors to generate up to $15 million in new scholarship endowments that will support deserving students at the schools of dentistry, law, medicine, nursing, pharmacy and social work at the University of Maryland, Baltimore (UMB). Endowments provide a powerful gift as annual earnings generated by the endowment result in continuous funding for the University. Investing in the Scholarship Matching Program will directly impact UMB's current and future students.

Currently, UMBF has allocated $5 million to leverage donor gifts for the program. The program will match new and increased gifts to endowed scholarship funds at 50 cents per dollar. Each school has been allocated an initial matching pool of $750,000 and will have up to two years to utilize its allocation. Currently, the law school has used almost $500,000 of its allotted matching funds.

Donor commitments for establishing new funds at the law school must be at least $33,334 to qualify, while commitments to existing funds must be at least $10,000. Funds that qualify for matching must be paid within five years.

Corporations & Foundations

Without the generous support of the following corporations and foundations, the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law would not be able to fund the numerous programs, activities, and scholarships at the school. Maryland Carey Law wishes to thank these organizations for their generosity and support in furthering the law school's important mission.

The Moser Ethics in Action Initiative

In 2011, Elizabeth Moser, with the support of her family, endowed the Moser Ethics in Action Initiative at the law school. The overriding mission of the Initiative is to improve professionalism, promote ethical thinking, and build leadership qualities in our students. To date, the Initiative has resulted in a new course on ethics and “how and why lawyers get in trouble”; a “roving professor” pilot project, where experienced ethics professors visit other professors’ classes to focus greater attention on professionalism issues; new emphasis at orientation for entering students on ethics concerns; and a pilot program created to provide professionalism skills training for young associates in law firms. The Moser family has issued a $250,000 matching challenge to other philanthropic supporters, and as of September 2014, $105,674 has been raised toward the match. In order to successfully reach the matching requirements, the remaining $95,325 must be raised by June 30, 2015. Additional funding through the match will allow for expansion of the law school’s important work focusing on ethics, professionalism, and leadership, and your gift toward this work will be matched, dollar for dollar.

Matching Gifts

The University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law is grateful to the many companies and organizations who matched contributions to our law school. Matching gifts double (or even triple) contributions made to Maryland Carey Law. Thank you for adding your support to our law school.
